

AUTHORITIES IN SEARCH FOR TRUNK OF PARKS WOMAN

Landlady Says Trunk Was Huge Affair and Two Men Moved It

ANXIOUS TO FIND IT

Believe It May Contain Valuable Information About Alleged Murderess

By David P. Sauter
L. N. S. Staff Correspondent
CAMDEN, N. J., Nov. 13.—A gigantic trunk, large enough to hide the body of a human being, and once the property of Gladys Mae Parks, alleged "cradle murderess," was being hunted for by authorities today.

When the Parks woman moved into the boarding house at 512 North Fifth street with four-year-old Dorothy Rogers and her brother, two-year-old Timothy, the children who died under her care, the trunk moved in with her. So says Mrs. Sadie Work, the landlady.

It took two brawny expressmen to carry it and part of the entrance doors had to be removed to get it in. What the police will find inside the mystery trunk when they find it, if they do, is problematical. But they are anxious to find it, nevertheless.

Miss Parks ate her breakfast today calmly and let Prosecutor Clifford Baldwin worry about his promise he would have a new confession soon from her concerning the death of the Rogers infants.

Through thick and thin, the former model and piano player has clung to her version of the children's deaths. Dorothy died after she slapped her. Timothy fell downstairs and was killed.

In the grim shadows of the houses of death, she went over the "accidents" as she had pictured them and protested her innocence.

"I didn't kill them—honestly," she insisted.

Over the remains of little Timothy, the one she loved best of the two children, so she says, Miss Parks did not blink a gray-greenish eye.

"He fell downstairs—honestly," she declared.

Throughout it all, she maintains a dignity, a pathetic dignity under the circumstances, in line with her own spoken estimate that she is "a lady."

Detectives were checking up today with police in Philadelphia, Atlantic City, Baltimore, Washington, Pittsburgh, St. Louis and New York regarding possible dark spots in her past as yet unrivaled. Miss Parks is known to have been in those cities in the past five years.

It is hoped clues may be unearthed regarding the blackmail racket the woman is alleged to have played on men of means in which children were presented as their offsprings.

Prosecutor Baldwin said the woman had told him she was not afraid to die. "Better folks than I have died in the electric chair," she said.

Some time today, the prisoner will be confronted by a sister, brought from Philadelphia.

PLANE TALK

By HARRY A. SUTTON
Of the Technical Staff,
The Aviation Corporation
(Written Expressly for International News Service)

13. Straight and Level Flight

Before attempting to maneuver the plane, the pilot must learn to fly straight and level. Not only must he know how to fly in an undeviating line toward a distant point but he must keep the plane on an even keel horizontally and laterally, inclining neither upwards nor downwards, nor with one wing down and the other up.

Straight flight is easiest accomplished by selecting an object on the horizon, aiming for it and by continuing to fly directly toward it. Cross winds may swerve the plane off its true course but the pilot soon learns to maintain accurate directional flight by the use of the rudder.

Horizontal level may be kept either by holding the nose the proper distance below or above the horizon or by constant watch on the climb indicator. This will faithfully register every upward or downward deviation. Similarly, lateral level may be assured by keeping the wings parallel to the horizon or by watching the bank indicator.

At first, the pilot may encounter some little difficulty keeping the plane true in all three directions at once. Rudderless straight may be easy while accurate all-round control, he may at the outset, find perplexing. A little practice will readily enable him to keep straight in all three directions, however, and quickly to feel or sense any deviation.

(Turning will be discussed in tomorrow's article of Plane Talk.)

HOCKEY TEAM WINS FROM AMBLER HIGH

Bristol Girls Score Victory Over Opponents Through Randolph's Fine Work

FINAL SCORE READS 2-0

(By T. M. Juno)

Lucy Randolph's two goals enabled Bristol High School girls' hockey team to score a 2 to 0 victory over Ambler yesterday. The Ambler eleven failed to score.

The game was hard-fought from the beginning until the close of the scene of warfare. The Amblerites threatened the Bristol goal uprisings several times but always found the Bristol females trained to the task, and in spite of their fine passing, were unable to put the wooden pill in the goal.

Randolph scored a goal in each period, but was well aided by her cohorts. Elsie Rockhill was also instrumental in the Cardinal and Gray's win.

The victory breaks the string of ties the two teams have been playing for the past years. Last year the teams met twice and each game resulted in a deadlock.

Coach Mary Fine has developed a fine squad of girls for her hockey team this season, and from appearances and the showing of the team thus far, it looks as if this team will overshadow the power of the preceding hockey teams.

The line-up:

Bristol	position	Ambler
Harris	right wing	Marshall
Whyatt	right inside	Cassell

Randolph	center forward	Newsom
----------	----------------	--------

McFadden	left inside	Green
----------	-------------	-------

McGinley	left wing	Leonard
----------	-----------	---------

Rockhill	right half	Brumbaugh
----------	------------	-----------

Descamps	center half	Brown
----------	-------------	-------

Di Lissio	left half	Delaney
-----------	-----------	---------

Still	right back	Bertin
-------	------------	--------

Colgan	left back	Ford
--------	-----------	------

Dowgwilo	goal	Haskins
----------	------	---------

Goals: Randolph, 2.

Time of halves: 20 minutes.

Timers: Flag and Lutz.

Scorers: Mershon and Rapp.

URGES TEACHING OF CHARACTER IN SCHOOLS

Dr. Frank Wright, of Boston, Addresses Teachers Institute at Doylestown

600 ATTEND SESSION

DOYLESTOWN, Nov. 13.—Addressing the seventy-fifth annual session of the Bucks County Teachers' Institute in the court house before an audience of 600 persons, Dr. Frank Wright, of Boston, Deputy Commissioner of Education of Massachusetts declared it is high time that character education be taught in every school room in America.

"The time has come in America to stop teaching character incidentally but to make it deliberate," he told the educators. "American civilization is a bit out of control and there is evidence we have built a machine that we do not know how to run. 'I would like to challenge the school teachers of America to teach the three 'C's', the most important of all, character, education, culture and citizenship."

Dr. Wright asked the vast audience of teachers who will be in session here until next Friday, whether they were satisfied with the books they read, the playthings they see, the plays they patronize and the newspapers they read today.

"What is needed is a better understanding of good values for I certainly believe the cultural level of American life is lower today than it was a decade ago.

"In a Democracy you will get just as poor government as you will tolerate, but on the other hand you can get in a Democracy just as fine government as you will work for."

Incidentally, Dr. Wright declared, it is worthy of American people to note that President Hoover is the first of the presidents to have seen fit to appoint a crime commission in America, which he declared, was a "good move forward in American civilization."

The sessions opened with over 500 teachers from every section of Bucks county registered. Judge Hiram H. Keller welcomed the pedagogues to the county seat.

Miss Jean Shinn, of Burlington, N. J., was an overnight guest Monday of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William P. Betz, 265 Madison street.

"Page the Prince" To Have Very Attractive Music

It will be a long time before a more melodious score than the music featured in "Page the Prince" will be heard on the local stage. This delightful and artistic musical comedy, to be staged here November 21-22 at the high school auditorium, is destined to be most popular because of its very modern musical numbers.

Some of the high spots in melody, the catches of the show, are: "When You Are Falling in Love," sung by "Ottillie" (Roberta Pearson) and "Lob" (Thomas Barrett), and "Cabaret Blue," sung by "Ottillie" and a happy chorus of high school girls. Then there is another striking duet, "Just Pretend," sung by "Ottillie" and "B. L." in the second act. "The Girl of My Dreams," with "Betty" (Doris Johns) and "Ed" (Howard Smoyer), is another catchy number that is being whistled and hummed up and down the halls and corridors of the high school during the course of the day. These two leads will also harmonize in "Song at Parting," a very beautiful number.

Since the scenes of the show are laid in the romantic realm of "Gondoliva" on the Rhine, some very stirring national airs are in order and these are sung with a most profound zest and finish by the choruses. "Gondoliva," the stirring national air sung by Captain of the Royal Guards (William Wiesner) and chorons of cadets, will surely take the audience out of their seats.

To top off the whole show with dash and pep there are "Wedding Bells" and "Waltz of the Rose," sung by villagers and peasants. A comedy hit, "There's Nothing Like Love," will be sung by Princess Pearl (Abita Noddy) and Al E. Oop (Arthur Reynolds), the bogus prince.

The music of this show is by Carl Hendrickson, well-known writer of many years' experience.

MAN DROPS DEAD AFTER WALKING MILE FOR "GAS"

Otto Neuman, of Philadelphia, Fatally Stricken With Heart Attack Near Here

SMALL SON WITH HIM

A trip to this section in search of oil, need of gasoline for his automobile and a subsequent long walk for same, caused a stroke of apoplexy and death to Otto Neuman, of 3305 Kensington avenue, Philadelphia, yesterday.

Continuous exertion for some time previous to the attack, it is believed, was the cause of the stroke suffered by Neuman, a man of large proportions. The Philadelphia is married and the father of six small children, one of whom accompanied him on his quest yesterday.

A party had been planned for at the Neuman home this evening, and father and son left their home yesterday afternoon for the beverage, which they hoped to secure at some farm house in this section.

Arriving at a point on Street Road, Bensalem Township, the car stopped; and realizing his need of gasoline, Neuman, who is 49 years of age, walked one mile to a gasoline station for some. When he returned to the car he suffered a stroke and fell to the roadway, dead.

Residents of the section saw the man fall, and summoned Dr. L. J. Winder, of Andalusia, who pronounced the man dead. The body was viewed by Deputy Coroner W. Furman Young, and was then brought to the H. S. Rue Estate morgue here, and last night forwarded to the Neuman home in Philadelphia.

The small five-year-old son of the victim was taken to his home by Constable John Mortimer.

Neuman operated a delicatessen store at the Kensington avenue address.

STATE POLICE WAR ON BOOZE JOINTS IN LOWER BUCKS

Raid Three Well-Known Establishments Last Night and Early Today

PROMISE MORE SOON

Get Blue Moon Inn for Third Time and May Padlock The Place

State police raided three well known establishments in lower Bucks County last night and early today and more are expected within the next 48 hours. The officers, numbering eight in all, and under the direction of Corporal Charles Rodgers, swooped down on the places and took into custody the proprietors. In a number of instances alleged high powered beer was obtained.

The raids were staged directly following the testimony of residents of Neshaminy Falls, in Doylestown yesterday, regarding a disorderly house at Neshaminy Falls. The witnesses declared that disorderly houses and gambling joints and liquor places in Lower Bucks County were being protected by officers of the law.

District Attorney Arthur M. Eastburn, of Bucks County, recommends that one of the places raided be padlocked.

The officers, including State Police, from Doylestown and Morrisville, following a well directed campaign, began gathering at different points late last night, in preparation for the raids. They took their prisoners to Doylestown and hearings were held today.

The places raided included the following:

Echo Beach Club along the Delaware River at Andalusia.

Bucks County Republican Club at Croydton.

Residence of Wilfred Peters, Eddington.

At the Echo Beach Club the alleged proprietor, John Walters, was arrested. The police obtained six barrels of beer and three pints of whiskey.

Walters was given a hearing before Justice W. C. Hobensack at Doylestown early today and held in $1,000 bail for the December term of criminal court.

The officers visited the Bucks County Republican Club at Croydton. This place was formerly operated under the name of the Blue Moon Inn. Barney Conway was taken into custody and the raiders secured two barrels of beer and a quantity of liquor. Conway was released in $1,000 bail and will have to appear at the term of criminal court in December.

This is the third time that the Blue Moon Inn has been raided and it is stated that District Attorney Arthur M. Eastburn will recommend that the place be padlocked.

The third place raided was the residence of Wilfred Peters, Eddington. Peters was taken into custody and one gallon of whiskey was seized and also a pint of coloring. Peters is still in the Bucks County jail in default of $1,000 bail pending trial at the December term of court.

Peters was one of the two men who found the body of Karl J. Hagenlocker, 3931 Delphi street, Philadelphia, Saturday afternoon floating in the Neshaminy Creek.

SPORTS

EDDINGTON WINS ITS THIRD STRAIGHT GAME

By T. M. Juno

Eddington A. A. won its third straight victory Sunday afternoon when they downed the West Philadelphia eleven 6-0 in a hotly-staged contest at Eddington.

The only score of the till came in the initial canto when "St" Trott, formerly an end but now a fullback, intercepted a forward pass on the visitors' own fifteen yard stripe and ran the remaining distance to score.

Lawler, B. David, Trott, Gannon and Kubler were the bright lights for both clubs.

In answer to the St. Ann's request for a Thanksgiving Day game the Eddington management wishes to state that they do not see any reason why they should leave their own crowd to accommodate the Bristol fans and still insist that their eleven this season could put it all over the Bristol team.

Line-up:	Eddington	West Phillips
Lawler	left end	Costagion
Kelly	left tackle	Bauers
Tryon	left guard	McDonald
L. David	center	Zeke
Roberts	right guard	DeSins
Corrigan	right tackle	Franklin
Early	right end	McKay
B. David	quarterback	Kubler
Keller	left halfback	Gannon
Whitaker	right halfback	Bickle
Trott	fullback	Gallagher

Score by quarters:
Eddington 6 0 0 0—6
W. Phillips 0 0 0 0—0

Touchdown: Trott.
Substitute: Earl for Keller, Hunter for Trott, Arrison for Whitaker, Fogley for Kelly, Scott for L. David, Pope for Roberts, VanSant for Lawler, Brennen for Tryon, Metcalf for Arrison, Barrett for VanSant, Remp for Pope, Taxis for B. David, West Phillips—Brady for Costagion, Parkhill for Gannon, Hoffedar for Bickle, Stanley for McDonald.

Time of quarters: 15 minutes.
Referee: Bauer.
Umpire: Pearson.
Linesman: Vandegrift.

CROYDON A. C. WINS
FROM KENSINGTON TEAM

CROYDON, Nov. 13.—On Saturday the Croydon A. C. traveled to the Whitehall Playground, Philadelphia, and defeated the Kensington Rangers in a second division league soccer game, by the score of 3-1.

Croydon scored three goals in the first half, Hornberger scoring first, with a hard shot from the 18-yard line. Three minutes later DePue scored, and a few minutes before the whistle Rigler scored on a breakaway easily dribbling past the backs and slipping the ball into the net for an easy goal.

Having a safe lead Croydon played a defensive game in the second half, easily holding off the attacks of the Rangers' forwards. The Rangers' goal was scored by McClintock on a penalty kick awarded for the use of hands in the penalty area by Walton.

Francis Gleason, Croydon's left half, played a stellar game, breaking up play after play of the Rangers and feeding his forwards like a veteran. Gleason has only been playing for two seasons but has developed into as good a half as there is in the game today.

Line-up:	Croydon A. C.	Kensington Rangers
Schwartz	goal	Dineen
J. Rigler	right fullback	Hackett
Macaulay	left fullback	Drear
Walton	right halfback	J. Babbit
Schaffer	center halfback	L. Farrell
F. Gleason	left halfback	Fusaro
Cordingly	outside right	L. Babbit
Hornberger	inside right	F. Farrell
P. Rigler	center forward	McClintock
DePue	outside left	Novins

Referee: "Ed" Donahoue.
Time of halves: 40 minutes.
Goals for Croydon: Hornberger, F. Rigler, DePue.
Goals for Rangers: McClintock (penalty kick).
Half-time score: Croydon, 3; Rangers, 0.
Final score, 3-1.

Lady Tells How New and Different Medicine Proved Its Powers

MRS. CLARENCE TRUMP

"For two years I suffered tortures with indigestion, liver and kidney troubles and rheumatism," said Mrs. Clarence Trump, 230 East Raspberry street, Bethlehem, Penna. "My stomach was in such a terrible condition that I was afraid to eat. Constipation added to my misery, and no wonder rheumatism developed. Four months ago the rheumatism became so severe that I had to give up my work."

"In just four weeks Konjola proved itself the master of all my ills. I am in fine health today, and back to work, thanks to this amazing medicine. Konjola helped me in every way. I do not have to get up nights; have a fine appetite, and am enjoying health that I feared I never would have again."

Konjola is sold in Bristol at Hoffman's Cut Rate store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.—(Adv.)
